

Inspector Raymond McDonald was rather puzzled. The room he was now stood in had been locked from the inside. The key was still in the lock. He and his team had been forced to smash the door so that they could get in to the room. So how was it possible, with 24 hour security and CCTV cameras in operation, for the Devenhurst Emerald to have been stolen?

Use the storyboard to start planning the major events in your story, and then write a draft. Read it. Think about it. How could you make your story draft even better?
